THE tragedy, "Shylock, or the Merchant of Venice," was given at the opera house last night before an appreciative audience by William Stafford and his dramatic company. The performance was a creditable entertainment. Among the supporting company was Miss Rosa Rand, a fine actress. Mr. Stafford assumed the role of Shylock, the crafty old fellow who was after a pound of flesh and didn't get it. The character was splendidly acted.

A SPLENDID free lunch will be served at Morgan's Palace Exchange during the forenoon and evening of next Saturday and the Italian band will be present and delight those in attendance with a number of their best selections. All are invited. 10dtd

THE great question, "Do We Need Prohibition," was not discussed at Clinton Monday night by Bradshaw and Burnett, the great two-ly attraction that appeared at the tabernacle in Deatur on Sunday afternoon. It was reluctantly decided that the people do not want to hear the question aired at 25 cents a head. It is both entertaining and instructive to hear the colored, particularly when with his grand sweeps and flights of eloquence he figuratively wipes the stage with Burnett. The latter gentleman remained in Deatur yesterday.

BY the efforts of the Illinois state board of health, thirty-one impostors, who had falsely made oath that they were graduates of foreign medical universities, have been obliged to give up practice in this state. The latest case was that of a barber named Lambrecht, who butchered a mother and her unborn babe at Collinsville. He personated Dr. Henry L. Luders, from Gottingen, now dead, and presented his diploma. Lambrecht, it is thought, has left the state. These pretenders who never studied medicine at all are worse than a pestilence, and ought to be sent up or hung up for manslaughter.

A Mid-day Marriage in the Third Ward at the Home of the Bride.

Miss Dorinda C. Leforgee, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Leforgee, and Mr. John E. Pattison, who is connected with the New York Store, were united in marriage to-day at noon at the home of the bride's parents, corner of Union and Macon streets, in the third ward. There were present about 40 relatives and invited friends, who filled the gas-lit rooms comfortably. The parlor, which was the scene of the marriage, was tastefully adorned with growing plants, vines, flowers and pictures, and from the ceiling hung a pretty monogram design of evergreens, similar and flowers, with the figures "1883" in the open space. A horse-shoe of beautiful tea roses completed the picture. Mandelsohn's grand wedding march was played upon the piano by Miss Mary Lattrell, of Springfield, and the bride party, preceded by little Miss Alice Piper, dressed in wine-colored silk trimmed with lace, the officiating clergyman and the attendants, entered the parlor and stood before the assembled company. The impressive Episcopal ring ceremony was used by the minister, Rev. W. F. Pinkerton, pastor of the Christian church, and the responses of the couple were clear and distinct. The attendants were Miss Cassie Leforgee, cousin of the bride, who wore a very becoming costume white, and Dr. W. L. Leforgee, of Warrensburg, brother of the bride. A very handsome dress of white mull, and satin bodice, were worn by the bride; the trimmings were machin lace; ornaments, flowers and jewelry. The congratulations which followed the ceremony were of the heartiest character, the young husband and wife receiving the personal good wishes of the company.

The wedding repast, which was superb in every respect, and as bountiful as it was good, was served upon small tables scattered through the rooms, the bride party, parents of the bride and the minister occupying seats at table set apart for them.

MEETING OF THE OFFICERS—FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE BOARD.

At the recent January meeting of the Macon County Agricultural Board, it was decided not to make any arrangements about holding a fair next fall until after the meeting of the board of supervisors in March. Messrs. V. Barber, J. T. Clough, J. R. Miller, J. Y. Braden and C. M. Durfee were selected to confer with the county board at the March meeting, and if possible induce that body to make a suitable appropriation that can be used in fixing up the fair grounds in proper shape for future exhibitions. The agricultural board have no money to make permanent improvements or temporary repairs so badly needed, and they wait aid from the county.

FINANCIAL.
The following is the official report of the receipts and expenditures of the 1882 fair:

Total receipts from all sources, $312.81
Paid out for: 277.40

Drs. M. Brandom, of this city, and H. Brandom, of Deatur, last evening disposed of their interests in the Fleury Medicine Company to Mr. Frank Fleury, and they in connection with Dr. Roe, of Deatur, will establish a galvanic infirmary in this city. They will for the present occupy rooms over Fleury's drug store.—Springfield Post.

THE other day somebody entered Tom Russell's sleeping room, over Milklin & Co's bank, in which the printer Wickersham committed suicide, and stole there from two quilts, a $3 shirt, a $1.10 bed-tick, a pair of slippers, some shoemaker's tools, three new shirts, two pairs of gloves, underwear, and other articles. Tom charges John Hockinberry with the theft. Yesterday Mr. Russell found a part of the stolen goods and ascertained that they had been sold by John.

THE other day Henry Smith's thoroughbred hunting dog went to the depot in company with two of Mr. Smith's children. While the dog was moving about he discovered a hunter's outfit in the baggage car of an outgoing train on the Wash. Thinking that he was taken to the train to go off with the party the dog got in among the guns and blankets and laid down. The train pulled out and his dog-skip went along. Mr. Smith learned of the whereabouts of his pet setter and telegraphed to St. Louis to have him returned. The order was promptly obeyed and now the disappointed dog is in charge of his owner, who will keep a closer watch over him.

THE Variety Comedy To-Night.
The Hanley troupe of 30 people is in town. The performers will appear at the opera house to-night in the farcical comedy thus mentioned by the Pittsburgh Telegraph:

M. W. Hanley's "Squalter Sovereignty" made an instantaneous hit at the Opera House last night. The theatre was filled from orchestra to gallery; the laughter and enthusiasm was uninterrupted over a performance which for native features and original effects, has never been excelled in this city. "Squalter Sovereignty" humor is of a class which bereft of much of the vulgar aroma frequently encountered, is just as pleasing to the senses as the most fastidious and sedate amusement seekers. The play is not a mere sketch, long drawn out, but is rather a series of many sketches and incidents, drawn within a certain scope, so that the rush of new effects, novel surprises and side-splitting episodes is unbroken until the final fall of the curtain. Owing to the enterprise displayed by Manager Hanley, the interpretation of the many different characters is in the hands of a company eminently qualified to do them full justice. In their keeping, the effects are brought out in strong relief, and not counting out the donkey, the goat, the geese, the pigs, etc., the entire cast utilized in the performance is thoroughly efficient. The scenery for new and novel, and is carried by the company. The orchestra also travels with the troupe, and under the able baton of Prof. Chapin Lucy, the sweet music of Dave Abraham is rendered in faultless style. A mention of the estate of the great old performance in the wonderful Xylophone solos by Master Eddie King.

Admission 35, 50 and 75 cents.

FOUR POUNDS OF POWDER, A SHATTERED STORE AND A TERRIFIED MERCHANT.

A little incident took place the other day in Oakley which demonstrates the danger in fooling with gunpowder, and which might have been accompanied by more fearful consequences. One of the wide-awake merchants of the town, thinking to remove from his stove-pipe and chimney the soot which had there gathered, carefully weighed four pounds of powder, wrapped it securely with paper and string, placed it in the stove which then contained a fire, closed the stove door and held it shut with the poker, and then awaited the result. His partner retired to the outside, preferring to take in the situation through the window. As it seems, the merchant was not aware of the peculiar nature of gunpowder, for the result came sooner than expected, completely demolishing the stove. The report was terrific, startling the villagers. We heard the crash and seeing several running toward the store, ran also. Arriving at the store and making our way to the rear through soot and smoke, we found the startled and terrified grocer prostrate in a corner, gasping for breath. Cool outdoor air soon revived him. The most miraculous part of the affair was the escape, uninjured, of the merchant, except a few slight wounds, from which he has mostly recovered. The scattered fire was picked up by by-standers, preventing total destruction of the store. Luckily no other damage was done, except to the stove. The partner, when found, exclaimed, "That's just what I told you!" It is needless to state, the soot was removed from pipe and chimney. This little incident should serve as a warning to those who are inclined to play with powder and fire. JONAS.

SAVING SINNERS.
Deatur Stirred by Three Revivals—The Harrison Meeting.

Despite the bad weather last night the audience room at the First M. E. church was again filled, and a most interesting and profitable service was had. Rev. Harrison took for his text the words found in the 15th verse of the first chapter of First Timothy, and dwelt largely upon the love and compassion of Jesus for the sinner. The exhortation as usual engaged the closest attention of the congregation, as did also every movement of the young evangelist, and everything that transpired about the altar. The singing of the revival hymns was spirited. There were over 30 seekers at the altar, and there were a number of sound conversions. Meeting again this evening at the usual hour.

Elder Pinkerton had another good-sized congregation at the Christian church last night to hear him deliver a logical discourse. The meetings at this church will be continued throughout the week.

Rev. Fleming Gray reports a well attended and profitable meeting at the African Baptist church last night.

Elder Newcomer will commence a series of revival services at the Church of God this evening.

Bishop Gephart of Iowa will commence a protracted meeting at the United Brethren church on Sunday next.

Rev. L. G. Powers, of McHenry, Ill., will preach in the Universalist church of this city on next Sabbath, Jan. 14, both morning and evening. A full attendance of the members of the church is requested, and the public is invited to attend.

To Attend the Funeral.
At a meeting of the original members of the Deatur Guards, held in the Sheriff's office last evening it was decided to attend in a body the funeral of the late Prof. Goodman, the first Captain of the company. A committee consisting of seven members was appointed, who have charge of the matter, and who will make all the necessary arrangements. It is hoped that all persons who have ever been connected with this organization will be present to attend the funeral at the time and place to be hereafter designated.

Committee: F. W. Wiener, H. C. Scanlan, W. H. Elwood, Frank H. Hall, Frank Curtis, Wm. F. Muzzy and Wm. J. Gillespie.

Funeral Notice.
The funeral of Prof. Goodman will take place from the family residence, on West Eldorado street, on Thursday, Jan. 11, at 2 o'clock p. m. Friends are invited to attend.
